If an emerging growth company, indicate by check mark if the registrant has elected not to use the extended transition period for complying with any new or revised financial accounting standards provided pursuant to Section 13(a) of the Exchange Act.

Item 8.01. Other Events.

On August 30, 2019, the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services (“CMS”) issued an update to the Hospital Outpatient Prospective Payment System (“OPPS”), with an effective date of October 1, 2019 (the “MLN Update”). The MLN Update included clarification on guidance for intraocular or periocular injections of combinations of anti-inflammatory drugs and antibiotics, including the family of Droplless® formulations made and sold by ImprimisRx, LLC, a subsidiary of Harrow Health, Inc. (collectively, the “Company”). Specifically, the MLN Update stated that nothing in the current CMS policy is intended to preclude physicians or other professionals from discussing the potential benefits and drawbacks of Droplless Therapy® formulations with their patients, and to prescribe them if the patient so elects. The Company currently sells over 200,000 units of its Droplless formulations per year and believes this MLN Update may positively impact unit volumes of Droplless formulations and the price per unit for these formulations.

Cautionary Note Regarding Forward-Looking Statements

This Form 8-K contains certain forward-looking statements including those relating to the sales of the Company’s Droplless formulations. Actual events or results may differ materially from those contained in these forward-looking statements including challenges with these and other sales activities. Please refer to the documents that the Company files with the Securities and Exchange Commission on Forms 10-K, 10-Q and 8-K, which identify and address important factors that could cause events and results to differ materially from those contained in the forward-looking statements set forth in this Form 8-K and in the Company’s other filings. The Company is under no duty to update any of the forward-looking statements after the date of this Form 8-K to conform to actual results.
